

Oklahoma Mission Trip July, 2016

A tall, slender, light-colored concrete water tower stands prominently against a cloudy sky. The word "OKLAHOMA" is painted vertically in large, black, sans-serif capital letters along its side. At the very top of the tower, there is a small metal structure that appears to be a maintenance platform or a ladder access point. The base of the tower is partially obscured by a dense line of green trees and foliage.

OKLAHOMA

“OOOOOklahoma!

Where the wind comes sweepin’
down the plain.”

YEAR OF THE INDIAN NATIVE TRIBES
O K L A H O M A

1992

(shy-ANN)
CHEYENNE

TRIBE NAME: Taken from SIOUX words that mean "people of an alien speech" — referring to the Cheyenne's native Algonquian language. Cheyenne words for the tribe mean "people who are alike."

SIGN LANGUAGE: Cheyenne is indicated by drawing the right index finger across the left several times — which means "striped arrows," alluding to the tribe's preference for turkey feathers to wing their arrows.

LANGUAGE: Belonging to the Algonquian linguistic family, which originated in the Great Lakes region.

CULTURE: The Cheyenne were originally agriculturalists and pottery makers living in permanent villages in Minnesota. With the westward push of white settlers, they moved west and adopted the roving, buffalo-hunting culture of the Plains Indians.

HISTORY: Modern Cheyenne history began at their meeting with the Lewis and Clark Expedition of 1804 in the Black Hills of South Dakota. • In 1868, U.S. troops led by General Custer made a surprise attack on Black Kettle's village on the Washita River in western Oklahoma. Chief Black Kettle and many of his band were killed. These attacks understandably made the tribe bitter and resentful for many years. • Long closely associated with the Arapaho, in 1967, the Cheyenne were co-assigned a western Oklahoma reservation with the tribe under the Medicine Lodge Treaty. Their surplus lands were organized as a part of Oklahoma Territory and opened to white settlement in 1902.

• Today, they are called the Southern Cheyenne tribe, a reference intended to distinguish them from their Northern division in Montana.

OKLAHOMA LANDMARKS: Exhibits at the Black Kettle Museum (Cheyenne), the Washita Battlefield (Cheyenne), the Cheyenne Winter Camp (Roman Nose State Park), the Darlington Agency (El Reno).

MOST FAMOUS MALE AND FEMALE: Black Kettle, chief of the Southern Cheyenne; and Plenty Woman, his wife.

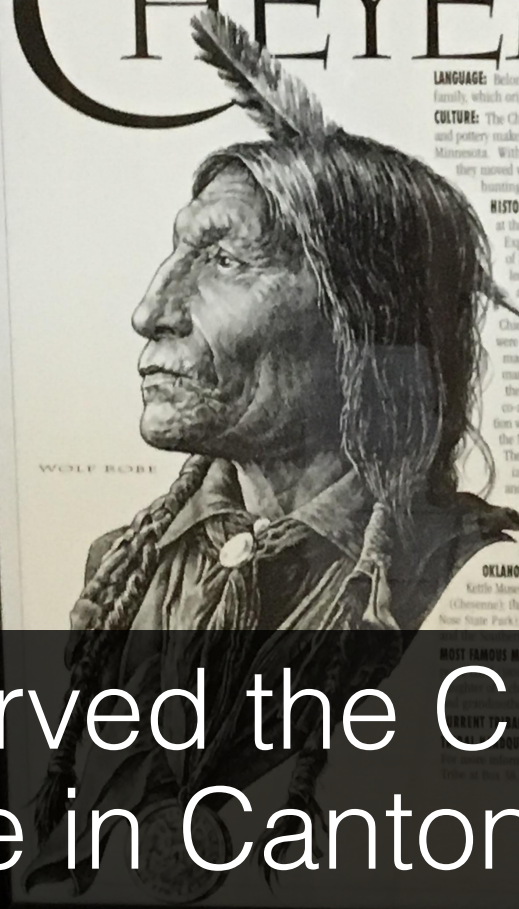

PRESENT-TIME POLITICAL LEADERS: The Cheyenne are a sovereign nation with a government of their own.

WHERE TO FIND THEM: The Cheyenne are located on the Cheyenne Reservation in Oklahoma.

Stated in a series of posters on each of the 57 tribes based in Oklahoma, the year of the Indian initiative was made possible by these corporate sponsors:

- AMERICAN FIDELITY SERVICES
- GLORIA LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE
- OKLAHOMA OIL AND ELECTRIC COMPANY
- OKLAHOMA NATURAL GAS
- SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE
- STEFEL NICHOLSON
- THE WILLIAMS COMPANY
- UNIBCO

WOLF ROBE

We served the Cheyenne people in Canton, OK

FBC & Ozark Christian Church teams

First worship service in OK

We worshiped with Quinton
Roman Nose (and others)
at Watonga Indian Baptist Church

Arriving for worship in
Canton, OK

Preparing for worship with Ozark, MO team members at Canton Native American BC

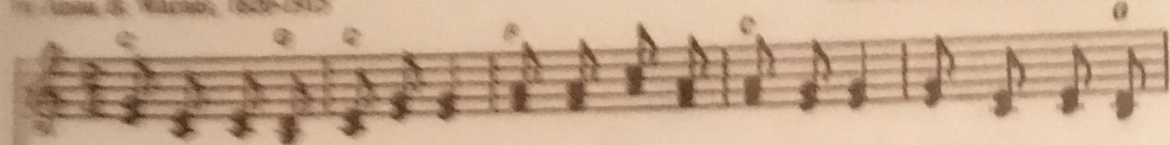

Jesus Namehota 83

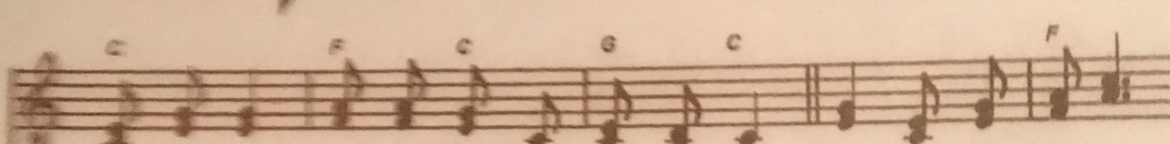

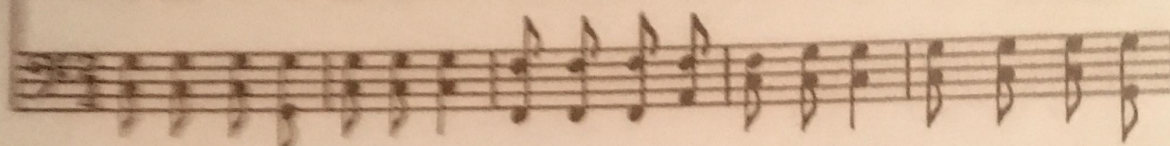

Jesus Loves Me

Virginia Lonsan, 1982
 Based on "Jesus Loves Me"
 by Anna B. Warner, 1829-1915

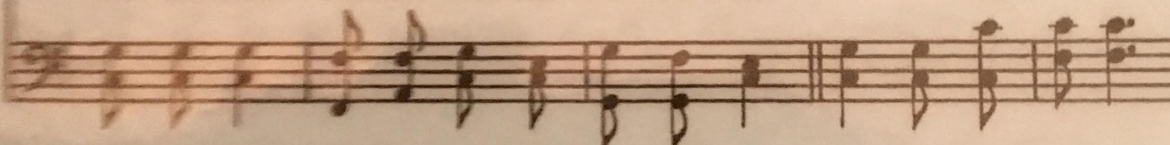

JESUS LOVES ME
 William B. Bradbury, 1816-1868

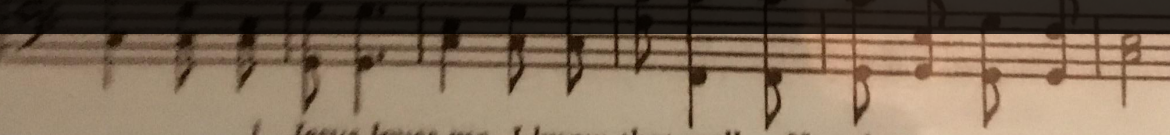

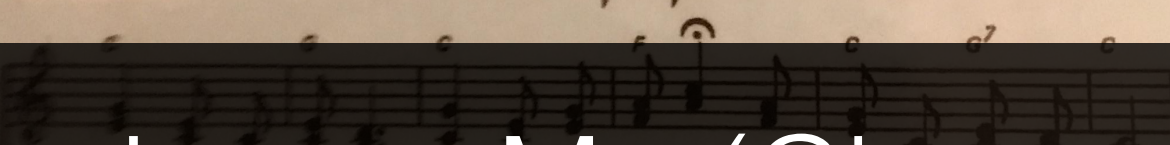

1. Je-sus A na-me-ho-ta. Na-pevè-he-ne-'e-na henè. Nach-ke-vo-voh-
 2. Je-sus A ne-me-ho-ta. Neh-na-e-vo-mo-ta-ha. Nâho-'oh-tae-ve-nêhe-tè-ha o-e-tee-va to-taa-'evâ. Na-me-ho-ta HE, ha Je-sus! Nes-tae-vo'è-sta-ne-ve-ha.

Jesus Loves Me (Cheyenne)

Project Orientation

Steve Graham, state
coordinator CBF, OK

Doug helping clear debris from church grounds

Starting on the bathroom

Bathroom renovation

Bathroom (when we left)

Corbitt and Sam washing out brushes

THIS is how we roll!!

Painting the Canton church

Bob H., Bob T., and Michael work with Ozark
team member

Taking a break...

Kids Bible Camp

God created the ocean!

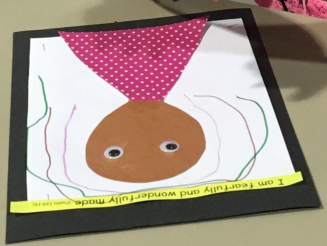

God created the ocean!

God created the ocean!

God created the ocean!

Gabbie

Recreation with Sam

Front of NABC, Canton,
OK

We scrubbed & reorganized the kitchen at Canton church

Cleaning the kitchen

Ice cream in the Thomasons' camper (Roman Nose State Park)

Fellowship with Ozark church

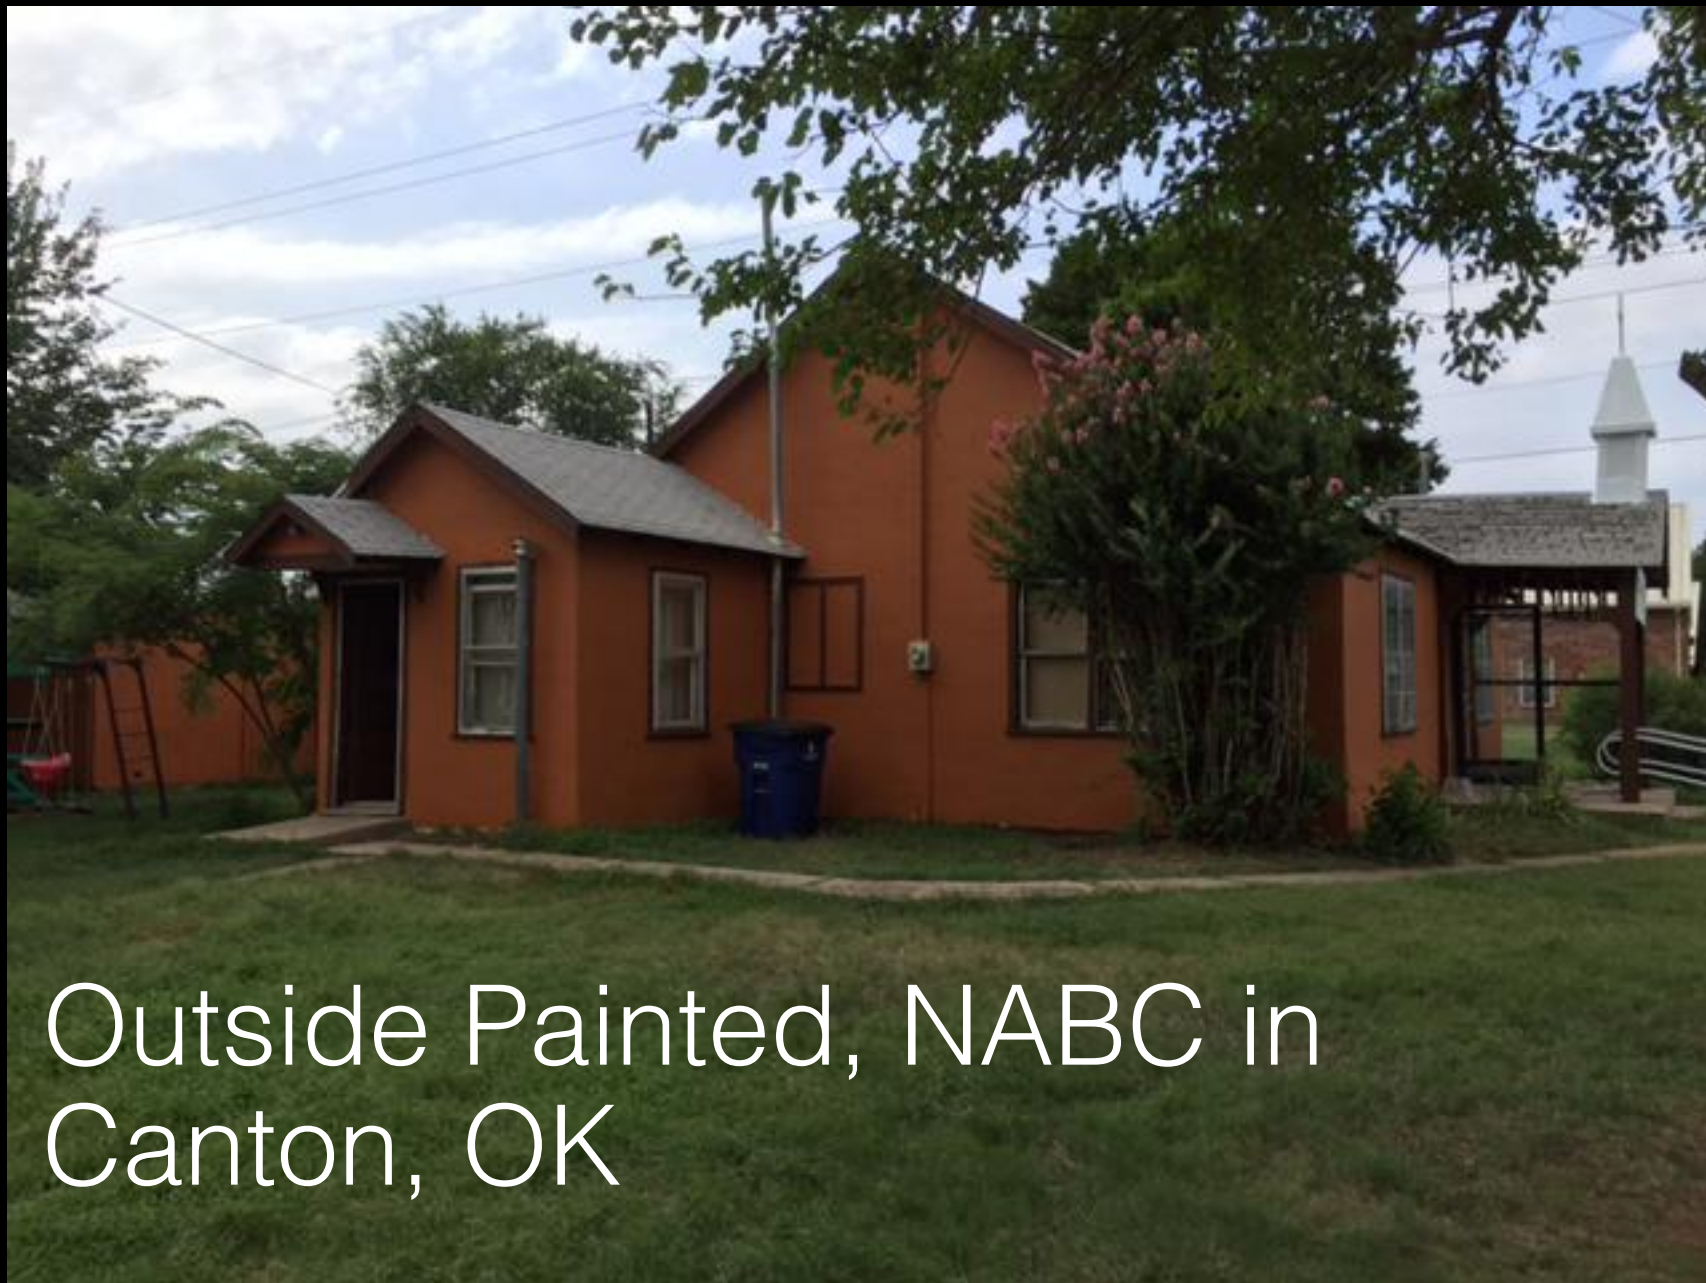

Fellowship with Ozark Christian Church (pastor and wife)

Front of NABC, Canton, OK

Outside Painted, NABC in
Canton, OK